

Defense subpoenas 47, State 28 for second Depreo trial Monday

By RICH ADAMS
Defense Attorney James Atchison arrived in Bay St. Louis Friday to begin preparation for Monday's second Janice Ladner murder trial, bringing with him four lengthy preliminary motions of discovery which he filed at the Circuit Court Clerk's office.

Atchison is defending Charles Edward (Chuck) Depreo, charged with the April 8 murder of Kiln school teacher Janice Ladner, the wounding of her six-year-old daughter Joy Lynn, and arson of the woman's Kiln residence.

An earlier trial in October resulted in a mistrial when the 12-man jury could not reach a verdict after six days of testimony.

Circuit Court Judge Leslie B. Grant, slated to preside over the trial, was reported Friday to be suffering flu symptoms.

Atchison requested some 47 persons be subpoenaed for the trial, and some 28 others have been served with subpoenas for District Attorney Albert Necaise.

Two witnesses subpoenaed by the defense who were not called to testify in the October trial are Cindy Lawrence and Hancock County Sheriff's Deputy Fairley Necaise.

Necaise, Janice Ladner's uncle, was named in earlier testimony by Joy

Lynn as the person Janice allegedly tried to call the night of the murder.

Ms. Lawrence reportedly lived in a Shoreline Park residence neighboring another home in which Janice Ladner's estranged husband Earl E. (Buck) Ladner reportedly lived at the time of the murder.

It is believed Atchison will also call "expert witnesses" to the stand, including a professional arson investigator who was hospitalized during the October trial.

Atchison maintains Depreo is innocent, and said last week he plans to reveal the actual killer to the jury during the trial.

"I feel certain, after analyzing all sworn testimony from the October trial, when the state produced all it had, and when compared to the sworn transaction of the May 9 preliminary hearing, being able to see the overall view, the jury will hear evidence which could very well expose the person who had the motive, association, and accessibility to do what was done in the early morning hours of April 8," Atchison said.

Atchison feels a motive must still be uncovered in the case.

"I am not satisfied, even though a motive is not legally necessary for a conviction," he said.

"I feel like Sheriff (Sylvan) Ladner did for so long...I believe he was right when he said the killing was a spite killing," the attorney added.

"In October, when I was in the middle of the case, I was unable to see the overall picture. I began to see it when I saw April 14 was the first time Joy Lynn supposedly said the assailant had black hair instead of collar-length blond hair, and also that the assailant's parents were building a new home in the Kiln," Atchison added.

In his motions, Atchison repeats many demands made in motions he filed in the October trial, requesting the court order the prosecution to produce information for defense inspection not previously supplied.

Atchison is asking for all statements or confessions in the district attorney's possession; all books, papers, or documents belonging to the defendant not previously supplied; results of scientific and physical tests made in connection with charges against the defendant; and testimony before the grand jury not previously supplied.

Information requested is not limited to items which the prosecution plans to offer in evidence, but includes all items in possession of the district attorney not previously supplied.

Bag search nets lids

Investigation of a stolen purse Thursday night led Bay St. Louis policeman to several bags of marijuana in a vehicle at the intersection of State Street and North Beach Boulevard.

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams said David Baldwin of New Orleans, vehicle owner, was arrested Thursday for possession of marijuana with intent to distribute.

The investigation began when Chief Investigator David Selier assisted by Assistant Police Chief Frank Hess investigated a report from Helena Moran of Bay St. Louis stating her purse was stolen from her car in the Pizza Hut parking lot on US-90 Thursday afternoon.

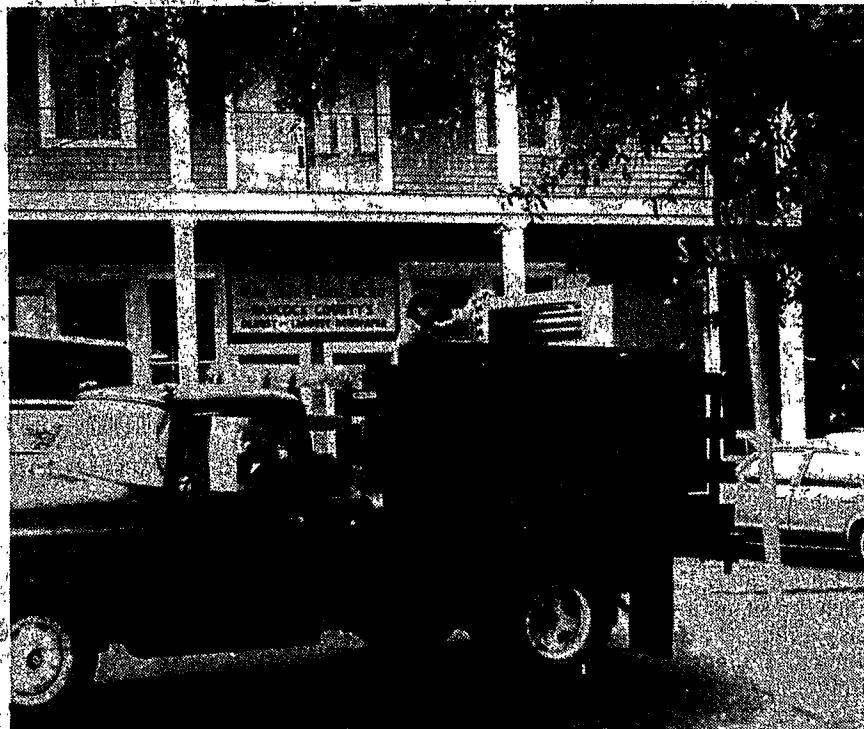

"The policeman later that night found 11 bags or approximately a pound of marijuana in Baldwin's car," said Williams.

"The policeman then apprehended Baldwin, and during an interrogation Baldwin confessed to stealing the purse," Williams continued.

Williams said other charges are pending with investigation still underway.

Mayor Longo 'shocked' at treatment plant offer

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Estimates of costs and reimbursements to the City of Waveland under a proposed Gulf Coast Area-Wide Wastewater Management Plan are "shocking," says Mayor John Longo Jr. Several weeks ago Longo asked representatives of the wastewater plan to send him information showing Waveland's specific costs under the project.

Director of the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission (MAWPPC) Charles Chisolm sent

Longo a report stating, "Under the plan, $625,000 would be the estimated price paid for acquiring Waveland's waste water treatment plant."

At a Board of Aldermen meeting Wednesday, Longo said, "...

Commission nominates Stennis Field operator

By RICH ADAMS
The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission selected Aero International Incorporated of Gulfport as new fixed-base operator for Stennis International Airport.

The commission selection, made at a Thursday night meeting, is subject to approval of the County Board of Supervisors which meets next at 9 a.m. Monday.

If the commission's selection is approved by the Supervisors Monday, Webre said he would like to see Aero International take over at Stennis Field immediately.

The unanimous decision came Thursday night following some 3.5

hours of private executive session in which the commission hashed out differences on several proposals offered by prospective fixed-base operators.

According to Commission Executive Director Wilson W. Webre, it is his understanding Aero International is 'Mystery Mansion' secrets revealed

The Villa Karma is coming out of seclusion! But only briefly. The present owner, Mrs. John Frith, will open her home at 961 East Beach in Pass Christian Feb. 14 between 3 and 5 p.m. to guests of the St. Monica Guild's Valentine Silver Tea.

Villa Karma, from its beginning, has been a house shrouded in mystery. Perhaps the whole truth will never be known.

However, John Lang, a Pass Christian realtor who wrote the history of Harrison County, did write for publication in the Tarpon Beacon an article with dateline, Pass Christian, November 21, 1936.

In his article, Lang reports some of the shocking history, including the Christmas Day, 1892 shooting of Adam Kosch whose property adjoined the Villa Karma.

Lang wrote: "You will recognize the place by the high iron fence across the front with the name "Villa Karma" on the gate.

Villa Karma, what a foreign, strange-sounding name for a house of Victorian architecture facing the quiet waters of the Mississippi Sound in Pass Christian!

A name that a later owner had removed from the beautiful wrought-iron gate because she had been told the connotation was "house of ill-repute."

Probably a loose interpretation of the name would be "House of Fate," or

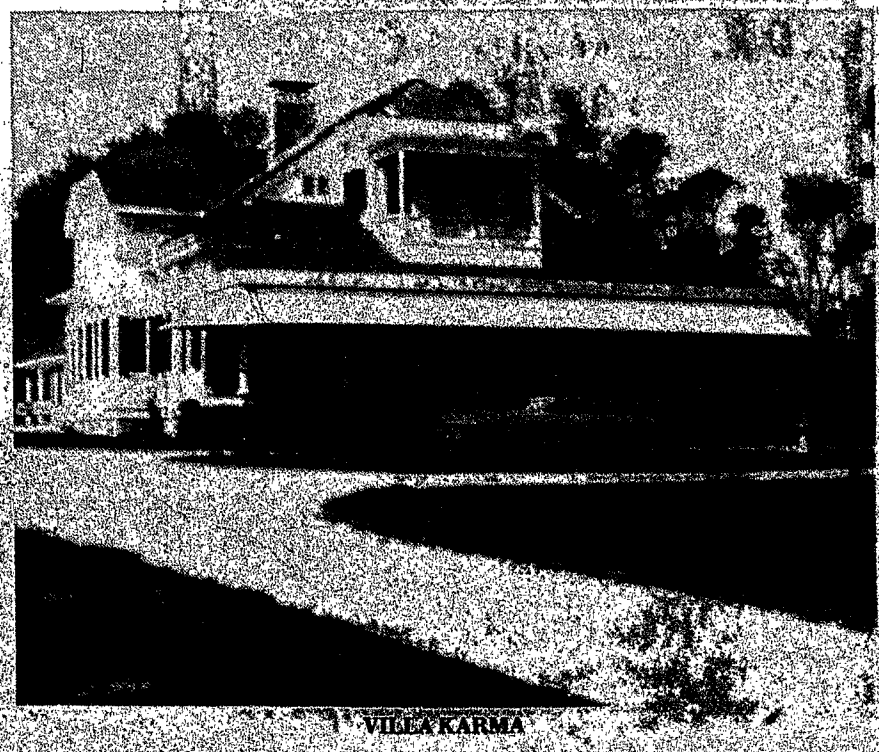

"House of Destiny" since the Hindu and Buddha followers think of Karma as the totality of a person's action in one of the successive states of his existence.

That is, a stage of life through which one's actions will determine his fate in the next existence.

So be it! This house of fate began as most houses do in the imagination of one William Dufour, alias William Devoe.

Bay Tigerettes record opening victory; Tigers, OLA eliminated

The Bay High Tigerettes defeated the St. Martin Lady Yellowjackets in preliminary play in the Bay St. Louis Invitational Basketball Tournament Thursday, but the Bay Tigers fell victim to St. Martin's boy's squad to be eliminated from competition. The Tigerettes soundly defeated the St. Martin ladies, 42-19, and move up one notch in the competition. St. Martin roundballers rolled over the Tigers for a solid 69-40 win over the Bay squad. Our Lady's Academy was also eliminated from play in the opening round of the three-day event, suffering a 59-32 decision against the Long Beach Bearkittens.

Theresa Ryan led the OLA squad in scoring with 16 points, the only OLA team member to score in double figures.

The Bearkittens led OLA 10-6 at the end of the first period, pulling away to a 10 point lead in the second quarter.

Ryan came alive in the end of that stanza and scored two buckets with just over a minute left in play to cut the Long Beach lead to 20-18.

With less than a minute to play Danleen Scarborough hit a foul shot and reduced the lead to one point.

With less than a minute to play Danleen Scarborough hit a foul shot and reduced the lead to one point.

Long Beach came back after the half and rallied for nine baskets which were unanswered by OLA, and moved in front to win, 58-32.

Janie Cuevas led Long Beach scoring with 17 points.

The second game featured the Tigerettes, who ran to a 20-0 lead over the St. Martin five in the first quarter.

St. Martin finally scored with 3:47 remaining in the second period, but Bay High led 29-9 at the half-time buzzer.

At the end of the third period, the Tigerettes had allowed only one basket to the Lady Yellow Jackets, and led 42-11.

Bay High then went scoreless in the final period, allowing St. Martin to up their tally to 19, the Tigerettes winning 42-19.

Tammy Raboteau led the Tigerettes in scoring, hitting 15 points.

Karen Tillman followed with 11 points. "We played a good defensive game," said Tigerette coach Willie Bradley.

"We moved good and shot good, but the key was defense," he added. Despite the final score in boys competition, Bay High and St. Martin played a close game.

St. Martin led the game 11-10 at the end of the first period. Thyron Williams hit a field goal with eight seconds remaining in the period to pull the Tigers within the one point.

The score was tied early in the second period, and with 5:53 remaining in that period, Keith Medley began a rally and Bay High began to fade.

Medley tallied 22 points for the Yellow Jackets to lead scoring. Wallace Benward netted 17.

Thomas Bailey led the Tigers with 14 points.

as replacement for resigned Rock-A-Chaw skipper Bill Poole.

St. Stanislaus Principal Brother Eldon Crifasi announced the appointment Thursday.

Jones will begin his coaching duties at the school at the start of the 1979 school term.

Poole resigned the coaching job in December after three years with the Rocks.

He took his team to a 6-4 record this year, tying Vancleave for third place in the Pascagoula River Conference.

Jones previously served as assistant coach at St.

Stanislaus from 1971 to 1973, and was head coach from 1973 to 1975.

During the 1975 season, Jones' Rocks captured the 'county championship,' defeating Bay St. Louis and Hancock North Central in regular season games.

The Rocks also participated in the Jaycee Bowl that year, and was ranked 13th statewide at mid-season.

"My immediate plans are to talk with the players," Jones said Thursday after his appointment.

"I will talk individually to each player over a period of the next three weeks, and we will then install a system for the upcoming season," Jones continued.

"I have to evaluate talent and put the right people in the right places, and form a system which will make us the best school in the state," he said.

"I am looking forward to again working with the Brothers at St. Stanislaus, the people in the community, and the players," Jones added.

Jones is a graduate of Mize High School in Mize, Miss. He also graduated from Jones Junior College and the University of Richmond, Virginia.

In college he was varsity football quarterback and a member of the Honor Council. He is married to the former Carol Ann Franklin of Richmond, Va.

VA Questions and Answers

Q - My husband died from service-connected causes. How much monetary assistance may I expect from the VA?

A - The VA will pay up to $1,100 toward the burial when a veteran dies from a service-connected disability, plus transportation charges under certain conditions.

Q - When is the dividend paid on VA government life insurance policies?

A - Dividends are payable on the anniversary date of the policy.

Q - Am I entitled to burial in a national cemetery as the widow of a deceased veteran?

A - Yes. A widow of a veteran who is buried in a national cemetery may also be buried in the same grave with that veteran, provided arrangements were made with the cemetery director at the time the veteran was interred, and provided the widow has not remarried.

A big help in the fog

The recent installation of street lights along US-90 in the Waveland City limits sure aides travelers during this recent foggy weather.

The City of Waveland officials continued to look for ways and means of better serving their constituents. Little things like street lights can be big things at times and they sure are during foggy weather.

Who knows, maybe Bay St. Louis will have street lights up along US-90 before the year 2000.

THIS IS NOT A DUMP! - These two photos were taken Thursday on Bayou LaCroix Road. The county dump was moved last year to the Catahoula area but you sure can't prove it by these scenes in the Buffer Zone. We do not understand why NSTL, the Hancock County Sheriff's office or the Hancock County Board of Supervisors allow such dumping to continue. We feel a lot of it would be eliminated if a few culprits were caught and given stiff fines.

RESPECT FOR SIGNS - There should be a law on the books protecting signs from being damaged or destroyed. This was the only one of many signs remaining along the Bayou LaCroix road still standing and it isn't in too good shape.

Stennis Operator...

"the leading fixed-base operator at the Gulfport-Biloxi Regional Airport."

Aero International, if approved by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday, will replace TransAm International, previous fixed-base operator at the airport.

TransAm was evicted from Stennis Field after owner Mel Anderson was reported missing and presumed dead in an alleged airplane crash in Columbia, South America.

The commission entered into executive session on a motion by Commission Member Dave McDonald, seconded by Fred Curet and unanimously approved by the board.

The lengthy private discussion, which ran from 7:45 to 11 p.m., is the second such executive session conducted by the commission in as many weeks.

McDonald, chairman of the commission's airport committee, said the executive session was called for two reasons:

"We are discussing different proposals with different people and some of these people are in the air service business and we feel it would not be beneficial to discuss these companies while in their present position," he explained.

He said the commission has received five inquiries into the vacant position at Stennis, three of which he said were from "solid applicants."

He said each applicant had been interviewed at least twice.

During Thursday's closed-door session, J. V. Forbes III, president of Aero International, made a presentation to the commission.

Weber said Aero International was accepted as the commission's recommendation by a unanimous vote.

"We had a number of prospects to consider, and it was the consensus of the commission that Aero International is the best prospect," Weber said.

"We base our decision on the fact that Aero International is a going business...it has a track record in financial capability, experience in fixed-base operation, and an adequate staff to perform what is required at Stennis International," he continued.

"We understand Aero International is the primary fixed-base operator at the Gulfport airport," he added.

"I am proud we are getting much better qualified and a better caliber of fixed-base operator than before," Aero International is dealing with the future and has the ability to capture the potential at Stennis," Weber said.

"They have something on the ball," Weber said.

Weber said no financial terms may be released until contracts are worked out.

He said the company's initial proposition calls for a five-year lease on certain airport facilities, with successive extension options.

McDonald's motion to approve the new fixed-base operator was seconded by Ronnie Artigues and approved unanimously by the commission.

NEW CITY SCHOOL BUSES - Bay St. Louis Superintendent of Education J. D. McCullough, right, receives the keys Thursday to three new buses for the school system from Howard Turnborough, sales manager of Turan-Lane Chevrolet. The three buses will be on the routes immediately according to McCullough as they will be replacing buses on loan from the Hancock County, Pass Christian and Long Beach School Systems. Three new buses arrive

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Bay St. Louis school system accepted delivery of three new buses Thursday from Turan-Lane Chevrolet.

The bodies were built by Ward Bus Company, Conway, Ark., on Chevrolet chassis. The vehicles will replace three loaned to the Bay school system from Pass Christian, Hancock County and the Long Beach School Systems.

Two of the 66 passenger buses have been painted the colors of blue and gold and will be used also for school activities, according to Superintendent J. D. McCullough. The third bus is painted yellow and black, regular school bus colors.

"The Bay St. Louis School system would like to thank the Hancock County, Pass Christian and Long Beach School Systems for the use of their buses until our new ones arrived," stated McCullough.

The new buses will be used primarily in the city limits to pick up students living further than one mile from school in compliance with last year's Supreme Court ruling.

McCullough said plans are now being made for the purchase of other buses later to replace some of the older ones now in the school system's fleet.

Waveland's wastewater treatment plant is approximately three years old, and built at a cost in excess of $1.2 million.

The mayor said he realizes the estimate is based upon costs of outstanding bond indebtedness against the treatment facility; however, the bond indebtedness is secured by the entire treatment and collection system.

"I assure you," said Longo, "if the MAWPCC sewer district contemplates acquiring the Waveland treatment facility for such a low price they will be sadly disappointed."

MAWPCC Staff Engineer Caleb Dana said, "The proposed $625,000 for Waveland's treatment plant is negotiable."

"It is not a concrete figure," Dana added.

Peat and Marwick, Mitchell and Co., financial consultants for the plan, came up with the estimated cost for the Waveland facility, said Dana, based on the city's bonded indebtedness.

Dana said, methodology the consultant firm used for determining estimated cost of Waveland's plant may be different from methodology Longo used to determine the value of the treatment facility; therefore a difference in opinion has occurred.

Wally Warrenburg, another representative of the consultant firm, said, "There are 100 different ways we could have determined how much each treatment facility was worth in areas under the plan."

"The method we used," continued Warrenburg, "was to use the outstanding debt of a treatment facility to determine how much would be paid for acquiring treatment facilities under the plan."

"It's just a method, we didn't have time to go around and appraise the value of all treatment facilities under the plan, so we used this fairly standard way."

"Obviously all estimations concerning purchase of the facilities are negotiable."

"In other words," continued Warrenburg, "the more outstanding debt a facility has, the more money would be allocated for that facility."

Mayor Longo was also displeased with Waveland's monthly household costs for sewerage provided under the proposed wastewater plan.

The figures given to the mayor from MAWPCC showed Bay St. Louis paying a monthly household cost of $10.03, Clermont Harbor $10.73 and Waveland $17.79.

"We (Waveland Board of Aldermen) can not understand under any circumstances why cost per household in Waveland would be over 50 percent higher than Bay St. Louis or the Clermont Harbor area which currently has no sewerage at all," said Longo.

Dana said, "A basic cost of $5.85 will be paid for services provided under the wastewater plan, but any additional fee reflects local system costs."

Warrenburg explained, "Local system costs in Waveland is estimated greater than in Bay St. Louis because Bay St. Louis presently has more people connected to sewer facilities; whereas Waveland has less of its city presently sewered, and cost to connect others to sewer facilities in Waveland would increase that city's local system costs."

Creation of the Gulf Coast Area-Wide Wastewater Management Plan stems from the Clean Water Act of 1977 which requires sewerage treatment facilities be built by 1983 to eliminate pollution along Gulf Coast and meet federal water quality standards.

The Waveland Board of Aldermen sent a letter to Charles Chisolm, acting director of MAWPCC Jan. 17, 1979 to describe Waveland's position on costs facing the city under the proposed wastewater plan.

The letter states, "The City of Waveland has a history of being one of the most progressive cities along the Gulf Coast."

"The City has not hesitated to take whatever steps were necessary to enter into participating programs where same would be to the best interest of its citizens and the public in general; however, as I mentioned to you before, the City of Waveland has been badly misled by certain statements of the Air and Water Pollution Control Commission in the past, and the Environmental Protection Agency."

"While we stand ready to continue to cooperate in any project which is in the best interest of its citizens, I feel that I must advise you the data set forth in this report indicates the possibility of discriminatory treatment toward the City of Waveland."

"I can assure you that the City of Waveland will not cooperate in any endeavor which results in any discriminatory treatment against its citizens."

According to officials at Bay Fire Department, a telephone call was received at 12:15 p.m. Thursday from a person described as "a child," saying a bomb was in the school.

Bay Police Chief Douglas Williams said he and Special Investigator David Seiler, along with Patrolman Alvin Favre responded to the call and conducted a search of the school with Bay fire officials.

Williams said the call proved to be a prank, and said phones at the Police Department are being monitored to trace future calls.

"Phones are being monitored for calls so in the future people might think before calling in a bomb scare," he said.

Senior High Principal Robert Magee said the call was the second this week, another being received by cafeteria workers Wednesday.

He said most threats are not taken seriously because of the nature of the calls and youthful callers.

"We deal with youngsters all the time...sometimes if we discipline them, they try to get back in this manner," Magee said.

He said no evacuation of the school was conducted Thursday because officials felt the call was a prank.

"We do all we can to protect the children here, and would evacuate if we felt the caller was serious," he explained.

Gibson Carter, a guidance counselor at the school, said the likelihood of a bomb being brought on school grounds is "remote."

"We have a closed campus here, and the likelihood of someone bringing a bomb on campus is remote," Carter said.

None of the school or emergency unit officials could determine if the incident at the school is connected to a similar case at Jeff Davis Junior College in Biloxi, which has been plagued by bomb scares during the week.

purchased some property, a small farm, on the East End of Pass Christian. The farm was sold to him by a Free Negro, Charlot, whose daughter Regina still lives next to the Methodist Church in Pass Christian.

Later on Dufour bought through John Lang the lot upon which the Frith home now stands.

Dufour said the lot was being bought for "a friend" and that a very fine dwelling would be built on it.

An abstract of Title prepared by Southern Abstract Company of Gulfport on February 23, 1925, and made for the Watts Estate shows a Warranty Deed dated Sept. 5, 1891 where land was transferred from John H. Lang to William Dufour.

It so happened that Adam Kosch owned property adjoining the land newly acquired by Dufour.

On Christmas Day the two men, Dufour and Kosch, said to have been imbibing very freely, got into a drunken argument which ended when Dufour drew his pistol, shot and killed Kosch.

He was acquitted of a murder charge when he pled "self defense."

When the impressive home was completed, a lady calling herself "Miss Watt" moved in. The walls were adorned with paintings which she said were her work.

Apparently the lady was exceedingly busy as an artist and she made frequent trips abroad. The home was never opened to local residents and a pack of yelping dogs on the grounds certainly discouraged visitors.

During her absence Dufour, thought to be her brother, took care of the property. Occasionally, it was rumored, there were parties and visitors from New Orleans in the home. Townspeople, with whetted curiosity, the mortgage and redeemed the diamonds with a transfer of deed of trust. Some of the diamonds which had been held in the First National Bank were sold. Finally the property and remaining diamonds were redeemed.

In gratitude for his assistance, Miss Watt gave John Lang a set of fireplace tools. These, she said, were once owned by General George Washington.

Lang said he had no reason to doubt the truth of this statement. For a while the set was in the home of John Lang's son, E.A. Lang who is a Pass Christian realtor. "I think," Mr. Lang said, "You might see if these tools are in the home of my son, Eaton. I do not now have them."

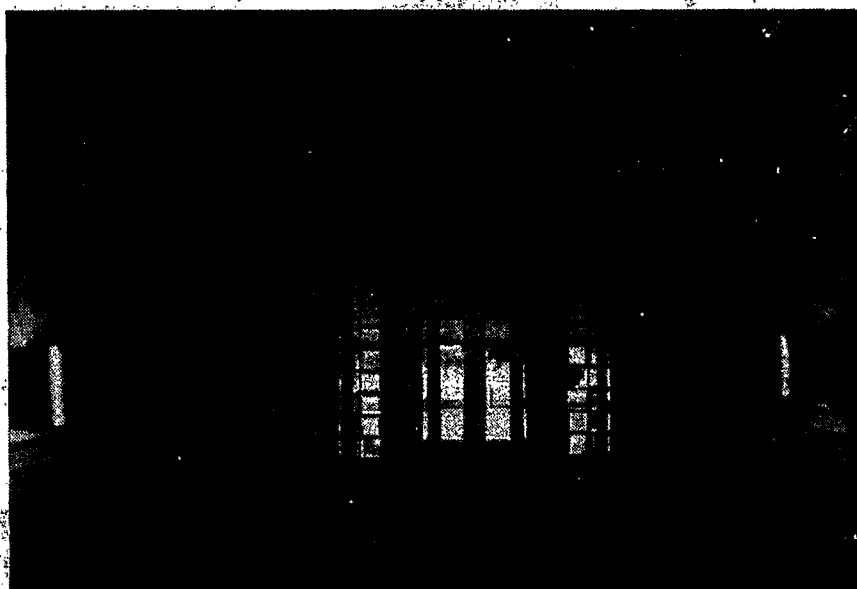

On December 11, 1923 Miss Watt died in the Gulfport Hospital. She left a will. The will was dated New Orleans, March 29th, 1909.

The will was filed for record December 29, 1923 and recorded in Record of Wills Book No. 5 (Pages 195-197). The will of Miss Lulu Watt revealed much about her character.

"I wish my property and effects sold and the money put at interest. ... The interest, $1,200 of it to be given Mr. L. Cleveland who is on my place. He has to be given that amount to take care of my stock and dear little pet dogs."

"Sell the chickens and the calves but not to a butcher. Everything that can be done for the animals and dogs must be done to keep them healthy ..."

"After the death of all the pets I will and bequeath to a genuine and loyal friend, L. Cleveland, the one who has stuck to and helped me, $600 as long as he lives - not knowing what the interest will amount to after the $1200 is given to Mr. Cleveland what is left of the interest to my Mother in Sandeval, Illinois."

VILLA KARMA'S FANLIKE ENTRANCEWAY.

drove slowly past the Villa Karma, they wondered - they whispered - they speculated - but no one really knew. Not for sure.

Years went by and one day John Lang received a caller.

He recorded the conversation: You have, known me as William Dufour, but that is not my name. My true name is William Devoe, and the woman you know as Miss Watt is my wife. You know her as the painter of the beautiful pictures in the house, but I am the artist who painted those pictures, and she is not an artist at all. I met her in Washington where I was located as an artist. We became intimate. I did the painting and she did the selling as her own work. And we were married. Now we are separated and there are personal affects in the house which I have returned to get, and I would ask that you get the Justice of Peace."

Records show that William Hart was at that time the peace officer. Hart and Lang accompanied Dufour (Devoe) to the property.

They found locked gates. They approached the side of the property and a man, Cleveland, came out with a double barreled shotgun.

Thrusting the barrel of the gun between the pickets of the fence he cursed Dufour and said he would kill him. Lang caught the barrel of the gun, turned it away and thus prevented Dufour from being hit.

At this point Dufour made a speedy exit, and, according to Lang's account, was not seen again in this area. Dufour did, however, obtain his divorce.

Years passed and Fate did not smile kindly upon Miss Watt. She became deeply in debt and there were no funds to pay off the mortgage on her Villa Karma.

In desperation she went to John Lang for help, stating she had some diamonds in pawn which she might also lose.

Lang wrote:

"She was in great distress as the mortgage on her home was about to be foreclosed and she had not been able to get assistance from anyone."

On his own account Lang took over

Her will further stipulated that she be buried in a country graveyard with her monument that of a large dog of marble like the "Sleeping Blood Hound by Lansier." (This picture hung in her hall).

On the burial plot, she stipulated: "I want all my dear little canine pets and companions buried near. Written on the tomb I wish my verse in the bible which says "She opened her mouth for the dumb and all those appointed to destruction."

"After the death of her mother and brother, Lulu Watt's wishes, as expressed in her will, were that interests should be used to "fight Vivisection in this country."

Personal mementos were a little gold watch to her mother, a ring with two diamonds and a sapphire for L. Cleveland.

Cleveland did not to long enjoy his inheritance. He was killed in an automobile accident on January 31, 1931.

With renewed interest, reporters from the Times Picayune sought information from John Lang who said: "All concerned have passed over the river."

If John Lang knew - John Lang was a man who kept his lips sealed. Background history of Villa Karma is to this day shrouded in mystery.

Mrs. Frith said: "I enjoy living in this old house. The rooms are spacious and the beams are of cypress. In fact, I suppose the siding is also cypress, but I don't know for sure. At any rate the house is basically as it was when built. A few modernizations were added by former owners to provide creature comforts."

Mrs. Stanford Morse, chairman for the Valentine Tea, said she would soon release the name of persons who would stand in the reception line as well as those who would preside at the tea service, act as hostesses and carry out the many details connected with giving this annual traditional tea which begun almost forty years ago when Mrs. Gertrude Kilpatrick of the Pink Cottage opened her home for tea in memory of her mother, Mrs. Abby French of Natchez and Pass Christian.

Pass Chamber plans Meeting

The Pass Christian Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Town Meeting Wednesday at the Pass Christian High School Cafeteria at 7 p.m.

The Chamber urges citizen participation in meeting.

"Participants will join together in a challenge workshop to discuss hopes and dreams for the future of the town and to decide major challenges facing the town," a chamber spokesman reported.

An interlude will follow with singing and refreshments. The participants will then write practical proposals to deal with the challenges in the proposal workshop.

Bay First Baptist rites join Bechtel, Yarborough

MR. AND MRS. DAVID J. YARBOROUGH

Miss Tammy Sue Bechtel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lawless and granddaughter of Mrs. Leonard Favre of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of David Joseph Yarborough, son of Walter Yarborough and Mrs. Lois Welch of Waveland, Saturday afternoon, January 6, at First Baptist Church on Main Street, Bay St. Louis.

Rev. Nathan Barber, pastor performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and fuji mums flanked by wicker baskets of similar flowers.

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Jon McKenna, organist.

Given in marriage by her step-father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over bridal taffeta. The empire bodice featured a sheer yoke and high neckline overlaid with jeweled Venice lace and Chantilly lace. Appliques of jeweled lace trimmed the long sleeves. The softly flowing skirt, bordered with matching lace, swept to a chapel length train. Her tiered veil of silk illusion, edged with Venice lace, was held by a jeweled lace Juliet caplet. She carried a bouquet of pom pom chrysanthemums, white sweetheart roses and pearls centered with a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Brenda Karl, of Waveland, sister of the groom, attended the bride as matron of honor, and Miss Sheryl Bechtel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sandy Perrot, Miss Alicia Perrot of Bay St. Louis, Mrs. Susan Moane, Metairie, La., and Miss Tasia Bradburn, Kenner, La., all cousins of the bride, and Miss Paulette Yarborough, sister of the groom, Kristie Karl, niece of the groom, was flower girl.

They wore yellow long voile gowns with matching lace ribbons and carried nosegays of yellow and white carnations and baby's breath.

The groom was attended by Keith Herndon of Waveland as best man. Groomsmen were Mark Corr, and Joe Gambino, Waveland, cousins of the groom, Jeff Yarborough, Waveland, brother of the groom, Jeff Winstead, Bay St.

Louis, brother of the bride, Edward Cook, Jr., Waveland, cousin of the bride. Clayton Adams served as usher and Kenny Shiyou was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length sheer pink gown and the mother of the groom wore a long aqua gown.

Orchid corsages completed this attire.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the American Legion Hall in Waveland.

For her wedding trip, the bride chose a two-piece silk floral print suit. The orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet completed her ensemble.

The couple will reside in Waveland.

Family dinner marks Jaquillard baptism

Brandy Rene Jaquillard, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jaquillard, of Bay St. Louis, was baptized Sunday, January 14, in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Rev. Louis Lohan officiating.

Godparents are Mrs. Patsy Ellis and Junior Bilbo.

Following the ceremony a family dinner was held in the Jaquillard home.

Attending were Brandy's sisters, Buffy and Annissa; her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jaquillard; maternal grandparents, Mrs. Eloise Favre and Edward L. Necaise; and her great-grandmother, Mrs. Vivian Collier.

Other guests were Mrs. Sylvia Patton, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ancaroni, Mrs. Vera Bräwer, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ellis, their daughters Janet, Patty, Connie Tammy and sons Randy and Greg, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Bilbo and daughter Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brokmeier and daughter Shawn, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stiglet, Mr. and Mrs. Cloer, Mrs. Junior Rester and sons, Bud Favre, Miss Cynthia Chatham, Miss Kathy Washer and Charlie Cassar.

Busy Fingers plan year's activities

Projects for the coming year were discussed at Busy Fingers Extension Homemakers Club meeting Tuesday morning in extension auditorium.

Mrs. Carmella Boyd, vice president, presided in the absence of Mrs. Gloria Holmes; and Mrs. Dee Carter hosted the social hour.

The next meeting will be at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday, February 20, in the auditorium.

Pearls Club elects Dickey

Pearls Extension Homemakers Club of Pearlport met Wednesday morning, January 10, in Pearlport Methodist Church Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Peggy Alkire, president, conducted the business session and a workshop on making decorations from bread dough.

Mrs. Mary Beth Dickey was elected Health Committee chairman and Mrs. Jeanette Burness was named publicity chairman.

The next meeting will be at 10 a.m. February 14.

Shower honors Elaine Dahlgren

Mrs. Elaine Dahlgren was honored with a surprise baby shower given by Mrs. Diane Perkins at her home in Waveland.

Among those attending were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Lillian Chagnard; Mrs. Joseph Bode; Mrs. Herbert Dichary; Mrs. Ronald Russell; Miss Linda Rainey; Mrs. Cliff Vogt; Mrs. E.N. Canady; Mrs. J.A. Boudreaux; Mrs. Otto May; Mrs. L.A. Sauer; Mrs. Lionel Bourgeois; Mrs. Benedict Bourgeois; Mrs. Charles Bourgeois; and Miss Janet Mastic.

Refreshments were served and games were played. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Bode, Mrs. Dichary, and Mrs. Lionel Bourgeois.

MR. AND MRS. JULIUS SCHWALL

Heitzmann, Schwall wed in afternoon ceremonies

Mrs. Alice Heitzmann and Julius Schwall of Bay St. Louis were married Saturday afternoon, January 6, in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Rev. Louis Lohan, associate pastor, officiating.

Escorted to the altar by her brother-in-law, George Heitzmann, the bride wore a double knit floor length aqua dress trimmed in lace and carried a bouquet of white daisies interspersed with aqua and white ribbon streamers. She wore a diamond pendant, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Patrick McGinity,

matron of honor, wore a long peach crepe dress overlaid with matching chiffon and carried a bouquet of yellow daisies. J.C. Pucheu attended the groom as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride where the refreshment table, overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with a two-tier wedding cake flanked by crystal candelabra.

Mrs. Jerry Dimitry of New Orleans, granddaughter of the bride, presided at the cake table and the bride's daughters Mrs. Lyndall Orrett of New Orleans and Mrs. Wayne Davis of Wiggins, Miss., assisted in serving.

Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to Orlando, Fla. They will reside in Bay St. Louis.

Out of town guests were Ed Schwall and family, Miss Rose Marie Cuevas, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dimitry and Mrs. Lillian Query, all of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Pucheu, Troupe, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cain, Gulfport; Mrs. Zodie Sbardella, Biloxi; and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Davis and family, Wiggins, Ms.

Raboteau, Johnson wed in St. Rose ceremony

Miss Lisa Ann Raboteau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Raboteau Jr. of Bay St. Louis, and Michael George Johnson of Biloxi, son of Mrs. Emma Mae Johnson of Bayou Goula, La., and the late Albert Johnson, were married Saturday afternoon, December 9, at a Nuptial Mass in St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church.

Rev. Bernard Keller, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony; and Richard Raboteau, brother of the bride, served as lector.

Nuptial music was presented by Edward Ishem, Misses Anne Harrington, Melanie, Bernadette and Daphne Mitchum and Mrs. Betty Lizana.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza over a navy blue dress with an empire waistline, high neckline and long sleeves.

Panel of lace enhanced the back and front of the dress and the softly flowing skirt swept to a chapel length train. Her tiered veil of illusion was held by a headpiece of organza edged in lace reemphasized in pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Kathleen Antoine of Biloxi, attended her sister as matron of honor, and Miss Janet Lyons of Bay St. Louis, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Pat

Gibson, Bay St. Louis; Miss Linda Johnson, Bayou Goula, La., sister of the groom; Mrs. Dede Bradley, Miss Linda Golden, cousin of the bride, and Miss Lori Fairconnetue, all of Bay St. Louis. Tina and Ingrid Raboteau, nieces of the bride, were flower girls.

The couple will reside in Biloxi.

Randy Johnson attended the groom as best man.

Groomsmen were Alfred Raboteau III, New Orleans; Michael and Wendall Raboteau, Bay St. Louis; all brothers of the bride; Veron Johnson, Bayou Goula, La., brother of the groom; James Lewis, Bayou Goula, La., and Leon Reeds, North Carolina.

Maurice Singleton and Emile Hazeur, Bay St. Louis, served as ushers; and Dwayne Acker, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride wore a blue and burgundy silk floral dress with navy blue accessories and the mother of the groom wore a navy blue suit with matching accessories. Both mothers wore white rose corsages.

A reception was held in St. Rose de Lima cafeteria.

The bride's table overlaid with a white linen cloth, was centered with a three-tier wedding cake trimmed with white spun sugar roses and blue flowers. Silver candelabra were on either side.

Mayor presides at Slade, Holland rites

Ellen Louise Slade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Burkes Sr. of Shelby, Miss., and Lazaro Patrick Holland Jr., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Holland Sr. of Bay St. Louis, were married at 6 p.m. December 24 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mayfield, Bay St. Louis.

Mayor Larry Bennett performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a powder blue floor length quiana gown fashioned with matching jacket trimmed in white white lace. She wore a headpiece of blue silk roses and carried a bouquet of blue and white silk roses and baby's breath interspersed with blue and white ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Ruby Starita of Waveland attended her sister as matron of honor; and Lazanna Holland, daughter of the groom, was flower girl.

They wore pale blue gowns with matching jackets and carried bouquets of blue silk roses and baby's breath with ribbon streamers.

Floyd Holland of Bay St. Louis attended his brother as best man; and Jerry Holland, nephew of the groom was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride received guests wearing a navy blue dress complemented by a white rose corsage.

A reception was held in the Mayfield home, where the bride's table overlaid with a white lace cloth, was centered with a two-tier wedding cake flanked by candelabra holding blue tapers.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Donna Beth Holland and Mrs. Sue Mayfield.

The couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

MATHIS RERUN

A rebroadcast of "Johnny Mathis," a solo performance recorded after a sellout tour of Britain, can be seen at 8 p.m. Saturday, January 27, on the Mississippi ETV Network. First seen last year on Mississippi ETV, the program includes 14 songs - some all-time favorites and some new. Selections include "Misty," "Maria," "Pieces of Dreams" and "When a Child Is Born."

MR. AND MRS. LAZARO F. HOLLAND JR.

The Krewe of Nereids, Queen Doris XIII and her consort, King Nereus will reign over the 13th Annual Bal Masque at the St. Joseph Auditorium in Bay St. Louis, Feb. 3.

The identity of the Royal Couple and their court remain a secret until the night of the ball, at which time only the names of the king and his dukes will be made known.

Following tradition, the identity of the Queen and her court will not be revealed. Each year a theme is chosen and carried out in tableaux court, parade and all aspects of the festivities.

On February 18 at 2 p.m. the Krewe of Nereids will parade through the streets of Waveland bringing Mardi Gras to the thousands of spectators.

A host of original floats designed by Edward Scanlon of New Orleans will carry out the theme and will be followed by the Krewe of Hancock which is made up of entries sponsored by individuals and local civic organizations.

Numerous school bands and marching bands will be featured in the parade which forms at Central and Waveland Avenues, proceeding down Central to Lafitte Drive, on to Beach Boulevard and finally to Coleman Avenue.

Parade entry applications are now being taken and further information may be received by contacting Rubie Chapman at 46-4051.

Entrants are required to have a theme and carry this theme out in costumes and decorations.

Miss. ANG schedules Magnolia III

Enlistments are being accepted for the Mississippi National Air Guard's third annual Magnolia Flight. Magnolia Flight Three will be composed of young men and women who enlist in one of the Air Guard units located at Meridian, Gulfport, or Jackson.

They will go to Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, on June 14 where they will receive six weeks of transitional training, then to the technical training school of their choice. "Previous Magnolia Flights have won top honors during their transitional (basic) training at Lackland and we can expect No. 3 to do the same due to the quality of the people we are enlisting," said one of the Air Guard recruiters.

A breakdown of the 72-member Magnolia Flight shows it will consist of 18 men and women for Jackson based units; the same for the units at Meridian; and 12 men and six women for Gulfport.

Interested persons who desire more information about Magnolia Flight Three may contact the Air National Guard recruiters in Gulfport at 863-8624.

THE GUARDIAN
By Jeffrey Konvitz
A Thriller about the ultimate confrontation between good and evil.
Published as a Bantam Original
January 17

Satan takes human form - in the person of Charles Chazen - to bring about the final, absolute destruction of humanity in THE GUARDIAN by Jeffrey Konvitz, the sequel to his 2-million-copy bestseller The Sentinel.

All that stands between Satan and his goal is a blind, aged, crippled nun - the Guardian. When she dies, here guardianship must pass on to another, but Satan is determined that she will be the last sentinel at the gates of hell.

Drawn into this occult battle are an unwitting couple, Faye and Ben Burdett, whose journey through terror begins with a series of bizarre incidents in their West Side Manhattan apartment building - the fortress of the Guardian.

A body is found burned beyond recognition, and freak accidents and a brutal rape take place. As the novel reaches its unexpected and shocking conclusion, all the resources of the Catholic Church are pitted against a demon able to assume any form, who wields his supernatural power with terrifying abandon, and Faye and Ben - themselves guardians of a dark secret - discover that they have been chosen to play a crucial role in the struggle.

THE GUARDIAN is Jeffrey Konvitz' second novel. A film version of his first novel, The Sentinel, was produced by Universal Pictures. Konvitz, who lives in Beverly Hills, began his career as a Hollywood talent agent, and worked for a time as a production executive for MGM. He wrote and produced the film Silent Night, Bloody Night and he has since written a number of screenplays for film, including Summer Dreams, Tenderloin, and El Grande de Coca Cola.

YOU AND YOUR PET

require that the pet eat a modified diet for the rest of its life.

Other problems such as occasional diarrhea or vomiting need a special diet for a short time.

Your veterinarian can explain in detail why your cat's eating habits should change during illness.

Diarrhea is often a sign of a major intestinal disorder in pets. Even after the cause of the disease is removed, the irritated portion of the digestive tract may take some time to heal.

Foods high in protein, low in fat and containing little fiber are appropriate, like lean beef or poultry, small quantities of milk or bland cheese, even a good quality single ingredient cat food.

Only small amounts of food and water should be fed for the first few days of convalescence.

A surprising number of cats have food allergies, which cause rashes, scabbiness and other skin eruptions.

Fish, certain meats and cereal products are the most common causes.

Generally, the cat needs a very bland diet - perhaps only cooked rice and a single type of meat - until the source of the allergy is identified.

A bland diet usually includes a good vitamin and mineral supplement.

Heart disease is occasionally seen in older cats. Excess fluid around the heart and in the legs forces the heart to work harder and faster.

Immediate relief comes from the use of veterinary prescription drugs followed by a salt-free diet.

Lean beef, chicken, egg yolks, oatmeal and rice are acceptable foods; processed meats, organ meat, cereals and bread should be avoided.

Cats love to nibble at their food, eating several times a day. Pets on a special diet benefit by repeated feedings throughout the day as compared to once-a-day feedings. Moist, soft cat food tends to dry out and becomes less palatable.

Several diet modifications are known to help the male cat which concentrates mineral deposits in the urethra (the channel draining the urinary bladder).

If your veterinarian diagnoses this as a problem, you may be directed to stop feeding the cat foods containing whole fish or ground bone.

The magnesium and phosphorus in these foods contribute to the sandy deposits which block the flow of urine.

Second, because highly concentrated urine promotes stone formation, increase the cat's water consumption.

Your veterinarian may wish to add salt to your cat's diet to promote thirst. Third, if your cat will accept the change, you may be directed to switch to a moist canned food, as these contain much more water than the dry or semi-moist varieties.

Your veterinarians may suggest vitamin A and B complex supplements also.

Each of these diets gives the cat energy and nutrients, aids its quick recovery, and does not add further strain to weakened body systems. Don't be shy about talking with your veterinarian about your cat.

your pet's convalescing needs. The better you understand the purpose and need for a special diet, the better you can help your cat.

Zachary strike ends, negotiations begin

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Negotiations between Dupont contractor H. B. Zachary and the Plumbers and Steam Fitters Union Local No. 568 are currently underway.

The groups began negotiations Friday at 10 a.m.

Some 400 pipefitters began picketing Zachary Jan. 21 because the company refused to recognize the employees' union status attained through an earlier National Labor Relations Board election.

Zachary agreed to recognize and negotiate with the union following a two-day strike at the $150 million titanium dioxide Dupont plant construction site.

Jimmy Lockhart, business manager of Gulfport Plumbers and Steam Fitters

Union Local No. 568, said Thursday he will seek a wage increase and fringe benefits for union workers in the negotiations.

"We will ask for an increase in wages from $9.70 per hour to $10.44," said Lockhart.

In the area of fringe benefits, Lockhart says the union will request 65 cents per hour of work be allocated to a workers' yearly vacation fund, 60 cents per hour for retirement, 56 cents per hour for insurance and five cents per hour to an apprentice training fund.

In addition, Lockhart said the union will seek a helper's pay scale based on 60 percent of a journeyman's pay, plus benefits.

"All these demands are negotiable," added Lockhart.

Brucellosis no problem here, County Agent says

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Loss of Hancock County's certification as brucellosis-free "is not very important if it is true," County Agent John Smith reported this week.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's latest monthly tabulation from its veterinary services section reports Hancock County as losing its Certified-free of Brucellosis standing.

"Even if we have lost our certified-free standing it doesn't make too much of a difference," said Smith.

In December, cattle brucellosis was found in up to five percent of herds in Hancock, Jackson, Stone and Tishomingo counties, resulting in a change from those counties' previous 'certified-free' status to 'modified-certified' status," reports the Agriculture Department.

Modified-certified status is an interim step to becoming certified-free.

To qualify for that rating, a county must have no infection at time of certification or re-certification and its herd infection rate must be less than one percent during the preceding 18 months.

Smith said in 1978 less than one percent of cattle in Hancock County were infected by brucellosis.

He added cows are checked for the disease every time they are taken to market.

"Brucellosis (also known as Bang's disease) so far this year has affected only three percent or less of the county's cattle," said Smith.

Smith said there are approximately 8,000 cattle in the County.

Brucellosis, sometimes called contagious abortion, is an infectious disease that can cause pregnant cows to give premature birth to their calves, reports Dr. Martin Goff, Agriculture Department deputy administrator.

"This can mean reduced calf yields over a period of time, and can have serious economic consequences for cattle farmers," said Goff.

Dr. A. D. Robb, staff veterinarian for the cattle diseases division of the Agriculture Department said the main concern as far as brucellosis goes is economics, fewer calves means fewer cows, and fewer cows means less milk.

Smith said even if the brucellosis status is at five percent the figure doesn't signify very much.

"If a cow shows up with brucellosis we quarantine the cow and then we take blood samples from within the herd the cow came from, then slaughter the diseased cows," said Smith.

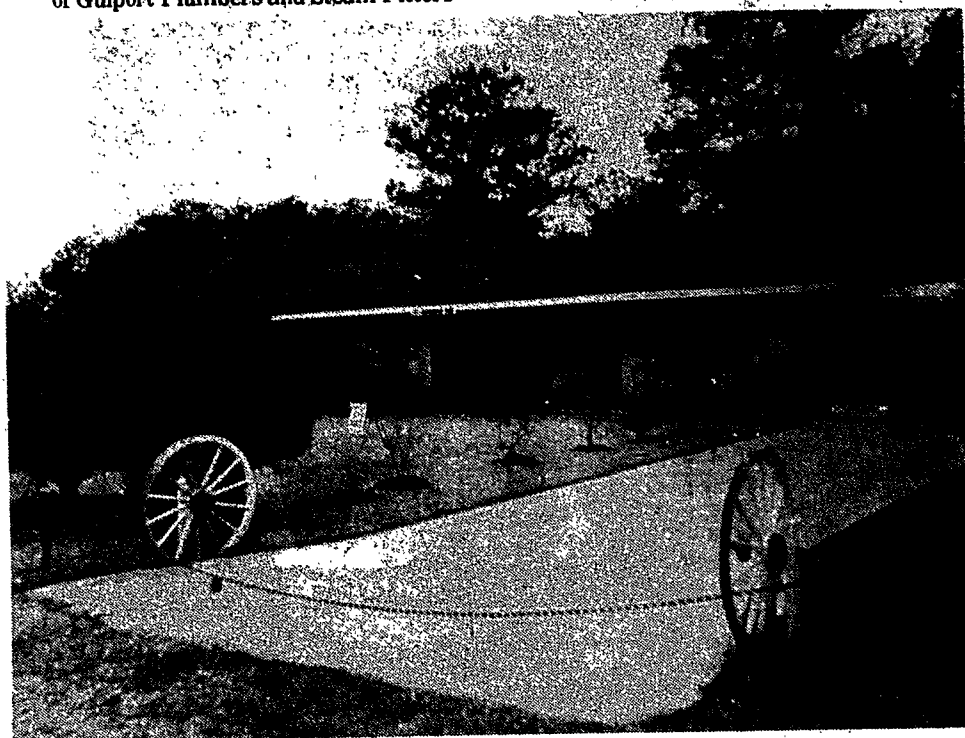

Smith said the disease won't bring the cost of milk up. "The disease is mainly in the non-dairy herds," said Smith, "few of the dairy cows have it."

"Because of the shortage of cattle today," continued Smith, "I don't think the disease will increase the cost of beef any more than it already has."

Smith said once a case of brucellosis is spotted, plans are made immediately to eradicate the disease.

"We started a program to eradicate the disease two years ago," he said, "female dairy cows should be vaccinated for the disease at six months of age and other female cows should be vaccinated from two to eight months of age."

Smith says the disease should be eradicated within the next several years.

New coast nursing home considered

Dr. Felix Dunn's application for $2.2 million in federal funds to construct a 120-bed skilled care nursing home in North Gulfport to serve Hancock County and 14 other counties "will receive final action sometime this week," said Robert Pugh, director of the Governor's Office of Health Planning.

Dunn is seeking a certificate-of-need for construction and application of approval for $2.2 million in federal funds to construct a three-story facility at the Saraland Health Care Center.

The Mississippi Health Systems Agency approved the project, however the State Commission on Hospital Care in Jackson disapproved Dunn's request.

Final action should come from the Mississippi Health Planning and Development Agency located in Jackson sometime this week after the agency has reviewed MHSA's action.

The planning and development agency has review powers over MHSA and the hospital care commission.

The proposed nursing home is part of a multipurpose, non-profit Saraland venture that includes plans for a home for the aged, health care clinic, shopping mall and recreational area.

The facilities would be located in a 20-acre complex on U.S. 49 adjacent to Phillips Milk of Magnesia plant.

In addition to the certificate-of-need application for the nursing home, Dunn has a $850,000 loan application pending with Farmers Home Administration for the shopping mall and HEW for a health care clinic.

Last August, Department of Housing and Urban Development approved a $2,944,920 loan to Dunn for construction of the housing portion of the complex.

The Saraland idea blossomed in 1975 and Dunn began work on the project with a $40,000 feasibility study grant issued by the U.S. Small Business Administration in early 1976.

Bay St. Louis Councilman Harry Farve, who is also a member of the board of directors of Mississippi Health Systems Agency, said he was not present at the Dec. 21 meeting at which the MHSA approved Dr. Dunn's request.

"I think Dunn's project is a good idea," said Farve, "I think the center will help the poor and needy people in our area."

W. Edgar Santa Cruz Jr., operator of the Gulf View Haven Nursing Home in Bay St. Louis said he thinks the proposed project will supply more nursing home facilities in the area than is needed.

"I think the Saraland project will over-burden the area," said Santa Cruz, "and I think the figures obtained by the Mississippi Health Planning and Development Agency verify this."

Santa Cruz added, "In my opinion, creation of this proposed facility would cause vacant nursing home beds along the Gulf Coast, and would be a burden to the taxpayer."

Waveland mercury aura intensifies

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

Installation of nine street lights, and an addition onto the Waveland Police station has been approved by Waveland's Board of Aldermen.

The Board Wednesday night approved street lights to be placed at 213 St. Joseph Street, 402 Piney Ridge Road, in the rear of Fire Station No. 2 on Gulfside Drive, 2206 Magnolia Street, 605 Old Spanish Trail, 276 Farrar Street, the intersection of Margie Street and Old Spanish Trail, at the Al Von Antz swimming pool supply store on US-90, and at 1810 Wood Street.

Construction of a storage room for the Waveland Police Department's equipment was also approved by the board.

The 8 by 9.5-foot storage addition will cost $217.

"We need the space awfully bad," said Investigator Robert Tartavouille.

Following a request by Charlie Henderson to extend Henderson Street approximately 500 feet, the Board said extension would be accepted contingent upon Henderson providing adequate sewer, water, paving and drainage.

All bids submitted to provide general supplies for Waveland during 1979 were approved.

The bidders include: Taconi's Hardware, Chapman Business Service, Hancock Supply Co. Inc. and Stevenson's Electric Supply, all of Bay St. Louis; Dickey Company, Waveland; Dement Printing Co., Meridian; Holcomb Asphalt Co. Inc. and Gulfport Paper Co. Inc., both of Gulfport; and Munro Petroleum and Terminal Co. of Biloxi.

The Board announced Waveland will soon advertise for bids to provide a new top-shelf and republishing packing gland on the Tide Street Water Well.

In addition, Board members agreed to advertise for the purchase of a used garbage truck.

The Board, with Ward Four Aldermen Louis Smolensky dissenting, agreed to supply a sewer extension to the property of William Corr.

Waveland's share of expenses for the extension is $425 and property owners is $1,000, said Mayor John Longo.

"I voted against the request," said Smolensky, "because I would prefer to become better informed on the subject."

"I'll never vote for something unless I thoroughly understand it," added Smolensky.

Ward One Alderman Barbara Rappold informed the board Mrs. Royce Williams has requested sewer service to several properties she owns. The Board took the matter under advisement.

Eastland is 'Man of Year'

Senator James O. Eastland has been named by Progressive Farmer magazine as 1978 Man-of-the-Year in Service to Mississippi Agriculture.

The recognition is announced in the February issue of the farm monthly.

After 36 years in the United States Senate, Eastland has returned to his rural home near Doddsville. He was elected to the Senate in 1942 and served six consecutive terms. He served in the Senate longer than any other Mississippian.

Eastland helped frame farm legislation from 1953 until his retirement and was particularly involved in legislation pertaining to cotton, soybeans and rice.

Earl Manning, Progressive Farmer Editor for Mississippi, pointed out today that the Senator consistently advocated the strength and growth of the family farm.

School roof repair funds ok'd by EFC

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Superintendent of Schools J. D. McCulloch reports approval by the Educational Finance Commission (EFC) in Jackson of a $32,000 grant for repairs at Waveland Elementary School.

The EFC monies will be used to replace the roof, repair damages to ceiling tiles, light fixtures and floor tiles caused by a faulty roof, according to McCulloch.

Preparation of specifications for the new roof and repairs are underway.

The superintendent noted no interruptions in class schedule are anticipated during the repairs.

'LIFTING UP JESUS'

In Jesus one will find life is worth living because we can commune with God. We can aspire toward his likeness, reach beyond our grasp to have this peace which passes all understanding. Without Jesus we are only existing. To miss being a part of "the Body of Christ" is like to have, utter failure. If your life is a failure and you only exist why not right now, let God light a flame in your heart and soul? Then, keep walking with God and watch the flicker grow into a great fire. In Jesus there is no loneliness and no aloneness - only peace and Joy in the Holy Ghost.

Mr. Milton C. Inch is shown accepting delivery of a new Chevrolet Nova from Turan Lane Chevrolet salesman Hak Doyle.

"I am a retired driver for the New Orleans Public Service. I am very active in the N.A.R.P. and reside with my wife in Waveland. I wanted to purchase a vehicle which would have room enough to give rides to my retired friends. I visited Turan Lane Chevrolet and Hak Doyle sold me the just the vehicle I was looking for at a good deal. I recommend Hak Doyle and Turan Lane Chevrolet to all my friends interested in purchasing a new car."

Mr. Milton C. Inch

GENERAL TO RETIRE

Gen. John W. Roberts, a visitor to the Gulf Coast since assuming command of Air Training Command in August, 1975, has been nominated by President Carter to be placed on the retired list April 1.

General Roberts's successor has not been named. The general is well known in the local business community and has addressed the Biloxi Chamber of Commerce at its morning coffee calls on several occasions.

General Roberts has made plans to meet with community leaders during a visit to the Gulf Coast in mid-March.

A native of Mankato, Minn., the general began his military career in March, 1943. He has served in Germany, Korea, Vietnam, and throughout the United States in 27 different assignments.
